Dear Students, Dear Colleagues,

in the last days our professors have participated to online meetings to understand the different alternatives proposed for delivering exams at a distance and the related ICT supporting tools available.

I remind professors to fill out the non-binding orientation questionnaire received by e-mail from the Schools and the ICT Service Division; this is a fundamental step to identify the required necessary resources.

We have also organized for next week training meetings for professors on how to deliver the exams, the schedule is available at this page in Beep.

I would like to repeat clearly that even if the emergency would turn to a point of allowing the partial return to the classrooms to take the exams, we will still guarantee all those who will not return to Milan to be able to take all exams at a distance until the end of July.

I am pleased to remind you that today we opened the seventh edition of MANTOVARCHITETTURA, the international architecture festival organized by the Mantova Campus of Politecnico di Milano.

In recent years the festival has seen the participation of several international guests and a great participation of attendees among students, researchers, professionals, and citizens.

We did not want to give up this important appointment, so we found a suitable way for the period we are living: every day, from today until June 12, from Monday to Friday at 6.00pm, a video contribution will be published, and will be always available online to those who would like to watch it on the Youtube Channel of Mantova Campus.

The complete program of events is available on this website.
