The right to stand for election is attributed separately to those enrolled in the respective specialisation and PhD courses of the old and new educational system and who have submitted an application.

The requirement of regular enrolment in a specialisation course and PhD courses, old and new educational system, must already be met at the date of submission of applications set for 13.00 on Wednesday, April 13, 2022.

Enrolment in the courses run by the Politecnico di Milano is attested by regular payment of the university fees.

The lists of those enrolled in the specialisation and PhD courses, and entitled to vote and stand for election, may be consulted at the General Affairs and Institutional Regulations Service, as of 18 March 2022; any exclusions from the lists must be communicated by interested parties to the Unit itself, at the following address: elezionistudentesche@polimi.it.

Each application of the individual College - PhD students and postgraduate students - must be endorsed by signatures collected in at least 1/3, rounded upwards, of the Universities of the College, with a maximum limit of 50 signatures for each university site.
Each subscriber is identified by name, surname, place and date of birth, university of origin, course of study and matriculation number. Student subscriptions that are not registered by the deadline for collecting signatures in support of nominations are invalid.

The applications for each College, accompanied by the forms indicated above, must be submitted to the General Affairs and Institutional Regulations Service no later than 1:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 13, 2022. The Service will forward nominations promptly to the Central Election Commission, established at the Ministry of University and Research.

On the institutional website of the University, which can be accessed through the link https://www.polimi.it/it/elezioni-studenti, a section specifically dedicated to the CNSU elections has been created, in which the Ministerial Ordinance no. 154 of 04 February 2022 and the aforementioned forms, personalised with the logo of the Politecnico di Milano, are already published, and will be implemented with subsequent documentation. Everything published on the University website serves as notification to those concerned.

The Central Electoral Commission will verify the validity of the candidatures and will draw lots to establish a progressive list of candidates admitted to the electoral competition.

Upon certification of all the candidacies of the relevant Colleges: students, doctoral students and postgraduate students, by the Central Electoral Commission and their publicity, the election campaign will begin and must end 24 hours before the first voting date, i.e. Sunday 15 May 2022.
